

The 5-Minute Realtor Performance Reset™

Use every morning before you prospect

"Your clients experience your state of mind before they experience your presentation."

STEP 1 · BODY & BREATH — 2 minutes

■ Take 3 slow breaths

In 4 counts · Hold 2 · Out 6 counts. Do this before anything else.

■ Smile.

Not a fake smile. Just one genuine smile. It immediately changes your facial muscles — and clients hear it on the phone.

■ Roll shoulders back and sit or stand tall

Posture signals confidence to your own brain before any client sees you.

■ Check your body for tension — jaw, neck, stomach

Relax those muscles before you ask a client to trust you.

STEP 2 · RELEASE YESTERDAY — 1 minute

■ Name anything you're still carrying from yesterday

The lost listing. The difficult client. The deal still uncertain. Name it — then consciously set it down.

■ Say this to yourself: "Yesterday's deal doesn't deserve today's client."

Not toxic positivity. A deliberate decision not to carry yesterday's weight into today's conversations.

STEP 3 · SET YOUR INTENTION — 1 minute

■ Name your ONE most important task today

Not your whole list. One thing. The thing that — if done well — moves your business most.

■ Set a specific prospecting goal

How many contacts. How many conversations. Write the number down before you start.

■ Who needs me today?

Somewhere out there, someone is stressed about buying or selling a home. Your job is to help them.

STEP 4 · GRATITUDE ANCHOR — 1 minute

■ Who are you still grateful you were able to help?

Not the commission — the person. The family that found their home. The seller who finally moved on. Feel that for ten seconds. Let it remind you why this work matters.

■ Name one thing about your business you're grateful for today

Specific. Not generic. A relationship, a skill, a market you understand better than anyone.

STEP 5 · FINAL CHECK BEFORE FIRST CALL — 30 seconds

■ Am I showing up to serve — or to need?

If the answer is "need" — do the 90-Second Confidence Reset before picking up the phone.

■ Would I want to receive a call from someone in my current state?

If yes — you're ready. If no — one more breath and reset.
